Did you send this to the soils@mpi.govt.nz email address, or did you use the online submission tool?
I can't see an email from you in the inbox from earlier this afternoon. If you resend your submission today or tomorrow I will ensure it is considered through the submission analysis process.

If you submitted via the online submission tool, I won't be able to check this until later next week when we extract the data from the tool.

Kind regards,
Tom
