Te Uru Rākau New Zealand Forest Service

Forestry in the Emissions Trading Scheme – post-1989

ETSP89PS.7
July 2026

This form must be completed by both:

- an executor, administrator, or representative for the estate of the deceased
- the successor (this could be an incorporated or unincorporated body, or one or more individuals) of the forestry interest in the estate.

This form must be submitted as soon as possible after the estate containing the post-1989 forest land is transferred from the executor or administrator to the successor.

More than one title can be transferred in a single transaction if they are being transferred to and from the same parties, at the same time on the same date.

Additional requirements

- The executor must provide the pages in the probate that appoint a person to act on behalf of the deceased.
- The executor must notify the Environmental Protection Authority and update the New Zealand Emissions Trading Register (NZETR) holding account information.

If you are the executor or administrator for more than one estate, you must treat them separately for the purposes of the Climate Change Response Act 2002. This includes submitting any emissions returns separately and fulfilling any ETS obligations for each estate.

You must complete every field in this form, except the ones labelled ‘optional’.

Part A

Complete this section if you are the executor, administrator or representative for the forestry interest of the estate.

- the area of land that is being transferred, and
- the area of land that is remaining.

If you are only transferring whole carbon accounting areas, skip this section.

Your shapefiles must meet the requirements of the Geospatial Mapping Information Standard.

You or a consultant can create a shapefile. The Geospatial Mapping Information Standard and more information about mapping is available at www.mpi.govt.nz/mapping-ets-forest-land/

Upload your shapefiles when you submit this notification.
